

U.S. Discloses Pictures Taken by Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today released new pictures from the Tiro I weather satellite showing great stretches of the area around the Mediterranean Sea and one view of the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

It was disclosed that the tape recorder for one of the two cameras aboard the satellite has been in trouble since Saturday. Only direct view pictures, not stored on tape, now are obtainable from the narrow angle camera which shows a smaller area but more detail.

None of the pictures given out today showed any Soviet or Red Chinese territory, though Tiro I has passed repeatedly over parts of those countries.

Despite the difficulties with the recorder T. Keith Glennan, head of the space administration, said the experiment in photographing the earth's cloud cover is "working successfully and well."

During his report to newsmen at NASA headquarters, Glennan declined to discuss the possible potential value of the weather satellite in military reconnaissance.

In reply to a question, he said Tiro I so far has made no photographs over the Soviet Union. He added, however, that some pictures of that vast area are expected next week.

Hundreds of Tiro pictures were shown on a screen, in addition to those publicly released.

Picture after picture showed the earth much as pictures from the earth depict the moon.

None of the objects on view could be identified as cities or definite localities.

Like any amateur photographer, the men in charge of the Tiro I picture-taking program were excited at first and took the pictures too rapidly so that in effect they got some double exposures by failing to give the satellite time to clear one image before starting another.

Also, as with amateurs, a number of pictures were lost because "we tried to take them in the twilight."

Glennan said that in the first full week of operation, ended early today, Tiro I had completed 101 trips around the world at an altitude of about 450 miles.

"Hundreds of pictures have been transmitted" to ground receiving stations at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., and Kaena Point, Hawaii he said.

Glennan recalled that less than 112 hours after the launching, NASA made available to the public four photographs taken by the wide angle camera which pictures a big area with little detail, and less than 24 hours later two photographs taken by the narrow angle camera which covers a small area.

He said that since Saturday evening the clock timer commanding the photo storage tape recorder for the narrow angle camera has not been functioning properly.

Since that time, he said, photographs taken by that camera have had to be limited to those taken on direct command from Ft. Monmouth or Kaena Point, and received directly without going into the tape recorder for storage—by either of those stations.

DeGaulle Home From London Visit

By GEORGE McARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle returned home today from a triumphant visit in London and faced up immediately to rest.

Fifty million Britons had acclaimed De Gaulle but 200,000 Frenchmen disagreed and the French President's first business upon his return home was a conference with Premier Michel Debre on the farm problem.

Ouachita Singer at First Baptist

The Ouachita Chorale, under the direction of Miss Helen Lyon, will present a Sunday worship program on sacred music at the First Baptist Church on April 10, at 7:35 p.m. The members of this choral group are students at Ouachita College in Arkadelphia where Miss Lyon is a member of the faculty in the department of music. The public is invited to attend.

WOW Not to Move

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—The Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society has abandoned a plan to move its home offices from Omaha to a southern city.

Little Rock, Fort Smith and El Dorado were among cities bidding for the company.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

Miss Judy Rae McDowell, freshman at Texas Woman's University in Denton, Texas, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McDowell of Hope, was one of 35 girls out of 1,000 freshmen chosen to serve as a counselor at Texas Woman's University, a position in which the counselor works with freshmen who depend upon them to interpret university policies, standards, and traditions in such a way that they will be able to adjust to them easily and also for friendship and guidance. Judy will serve as a counselor in Capps Hall for the 1960-61 term. This is a very noteworthy honor.

Ricky Forster has been named on the Dean's List at LSU for the past nine weeks. He is the son of Mrs. Marguerite Forster, and is a senior English major.

Golden Age Club Invites New Members

In a meeting at the Youth Center Thursday afternoon the Golden Age Club selected a committee to attend the District Conference of the Aged in El Dorado on April 20.

The group took part in various recreational activities and were served refreshments provided by club members.

The club meets at the Youth Center on the first and third Thursday of each month and issues an invitation to anyone wishing to take part in club activities.

The clubs next meeting will be on April 21. Prospective members should contact Eugene Cox or Mrs. Paul Cobb.

Hope Honor Graduates Are Listed

Nineteen of the 121 members of the 1960 Hope High School Senior Class have an average grade of 85 or more for their four years of high school according to Supt. James H. Jones.

The honor graduates are Sandra Russell, Nancy Keese, Sharon Foster, Carole Cox, Sue Ann Smith, Cecilia Cox, Cynthia Harrison, Sherrie Hankins, Cecilia Godwin, Billie Jean Wilkinson, Georgeanne Lowe, Caryl Joy Myers, Teddy Jones, Edwina Whitman, Barbara Thompson, Shirley Allen, Carolyn Yarbrough, Judy Kay Wright, Gilbert Brown.

When this class was in the ninth grade, they ranked second in the state on the Iowa Educational Development Test given for forming purposes.

The Commencement sermon will be delivered Sunday afternoon, May 22; diplomas will be awarded Thursday night, May 20.

Negro Defiance in S. Africa Seems Blunted

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African government appeared today to have blunted Negro defiance of its racial policy but there was no letup in the official crackdown.

The African National Congress and the Pan Africanist Congress—the only two Negro political groups of any note—were banned for one year. The government acted under emergency legislation rushed through Parliament after widespread Negro reaction to the police killing of 72 demonstrators nearly three weeks ago.

The government also called up more military reservists, although the Negro stay-home strike was waning.

The situation throughout the nation was more nearly normal than at any time since Negro demonstrations against carrying passes flared into violence three weeks ago.

Thousands of Negroes who burned their passes at the height of the campaign of defiance applied for new ones. They must have these "internal passports" to move around or work.

Workers streamed in and out of Johannesburg and most other cities Thursday without trouble. Most Negroes appeared to be working in disregard of the campaign of militant leaders to keep them at home until the government repealed the pass law.

But the calm that prevailed over the nation was uneasy.

Breaking into a play, the South African Broadcasting Corp. Thursday night read a long list of reservists and ordered them to report for duty immediately.

With most of their leaders jailed the Negroes so far accepted with outward docility the revival of the pass law, which was suspended temporarily after a bloody demonstration March 21.

Police and troops met no resistance in a raid Thursday on the big African township of Nyanga, near Cape Town, which has been a hard core of defiance. About 25,000 Negroes lived in the township.

The raiders rounded up 1,525 persons in the township's twin settlements—Nyanga West and Nyanga East—but released all but 162 after screening.

Gunman to Be Arraigned Here Today

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John L. Wilson drew up charges of robbery and assault with intent to kill against a Texan who ran wild in the Hope area.

Deputy Prosecutor John L. Wilson Jr. said he would file the charges today against Frank Edwin Read, 24, of Fort Worth, Tex.

Frank Edwin Read was arranged before Judge Lyle Brown at 1:30 today and his bond was fixed at $20,000. Judge Brown set Thursday, April 14 as the day for Read to enter his plea. The Judge also appointed Albert Graves and Louis Crain as his attorneys.

Wilson said Read would be charged on three counts of assault with intent to kill, two counts of armed robbery, one of burglary and grand larceny and one of possessing a stolen car.

Police captured Read without a fight early yesterday after he had ripped through Hope and nearby towns in a 1959 Cadillac he admitted was stolen from a used car lot in his home town.

Police Chief Jack Brown, who led arresting officers, said Read, shot and wounded a service station attendant in a robbery that netted $100 and pistol-whipped an attendant in another $85 service station robbery.

Both robberies were at Hope. Read also wounded a householder here after wrecking the Cadillac. He was captured while attempting to steal another car.

The cocky Read joked about being a three-time loser and told Brown he expected to get life this time.

Pre-Easter Service at Holly Grove

Revival services will begin at Holly Grove Methodist Church on Sunday, April 10 at 7:30 p.m. and there will be services each night at 7:30 through Friday April 15. The pastor, D. L. McCaulley, will be speaker. This is the first revival in the new church.

Southern Senators in Last Try to Keep Rights Bill From Vote

T. Lamb May Be Candidate for Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ted Lamb, a member of the Little Rock school board and a central figure in the city's desegregation controversy, said last night he may run for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The 32-year-old advertising executive was instrumental in reopening Little Rock's closed public high schools on a basis of limited desegregation.

He said last night he has not had a chance to consider the matter at length, but added: "I have been contacted by some people who have asked me to run. I feel very strongly about this thing, and I have some things in mind."

Lamb said he felt more candidates should enter the Democratic primary than have filed. So far, only Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett have officially entered the race. Dr. H. E. Williams, president of Southern Baptist College at Walnut Ridge, has indicated that he probably will be a candidate.

"I think the voters should have other choices besides those who have filed," Lamb said.

The filing deadline for the July 26 Democratic primary is April 27.

Lamb was one of three "moderate" members of the school board who opposed a teacher purge in May, 1959. The three extreme segregationists who instigated the purge were removed from the board in a recall election, but Lamb, Everett Tucker Jr., and Russell Matson, were retained in a simultaneous recall vote.

Lamb, Matson and Tucker drew verbal fire from Faubus during the heated recall election campaign. The governor went on television the night before the election and threw his support behind the purgers, Ed McKinley, Ben Rowland and Robert Laster.

Lamb, Matson and Tucker and the three new members of the board appointed to replace the recalled segregationists opened the public high schools on a basis of limited desegregation last August.

Faubus had closed the schools to avoid integration after federal troops led Negroes into Central High School in the fall of 1957 and the first Negro graduated from Central in the spring of 1958.

They remained closed for one school year.

Faubus denounced Lamb, Matson and Tucker as "integrationists," but they maintained they were segregationists who stood for law and order.

Lamb, who will be 33 Monday, is a graduate of Yale University and since 1955 has headed his own advertising firm.

Lamb would make no further comment about his possible candidacy.

AP&L Announces Automatic Light

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Power & Light Co. has announced an electric yard light, which is a photoelectric cell automatically turns on at dusk and off at dawn.

What AP&L didn't say was that the product apparently is designed to compete with Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.'s ever-burning gas yard lights.

The AP&L-backed light is known as the Ready Lite. Electric contractors will install the lights, but they may be paid for through AP&L power bills.

Minstrel to Be Staged Tonight

The final performance of the 17th annual Hope Kiwanis Club Minstrel will be staged tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Little Miss Beverly Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson, was crowned 1960 Kiwanis Queen among grade school participants last night at the opening performance. Other contestants were awarded gift certificates by Kiwanis president Henry Seamans.

A Queen from the Junior High School will be announced tonight and will reign over festivities.

A large crowd was on hand last night and Kiwanis officials said warm praise was received at the end of the performance which has a cast of more than 50 characters.

All proceeds from the minstrel are pledged for support of the Hope Youth Program, and over the past 12 years more than $10,500 has been expended for this cause, most of the money being raised from revenue of the annual minstrel.

Guernsey Seniors Plan a Benefit

A ball game between senior boys and girls of Guernsey will be held at the School tonight (Friday) at 7:30. Admission is 15 cents for students and 30 cents for adults. The game is to raise money for the annual senior trip. The boys will wear tow sacks and the girls gym shorts.

Sacks to Quash Charge

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A motion seeking to quash actions of Garland Prosecuting Atty. Walter J. Hebert in voiding contracts or $100,000 worth of county road equipment has been filed in Garland Chancery Court.

The road equipment was bought while H. C. Warren was county judge. He was suspended from the bench and later indicted by the grand jury. Hebert filed his action to void the contracts at the request of the grand jury.

The action to quash charges that some evidence taken by the grand jury had been divulged in violation of state law.

Specialty Act for Rodeo

THE FFA RODEO WILL BE HELD SATURDAY NIGHT at 8 o'clock in the Coliseum and it promises to be a dandy. The Rodeo features young riders from all over this area. And a top flight specialty has been added in "The Brandons" that features Red and Jane Brandon and "Sparky", a Hollywood trick horse that has made many films and appeared on stage and TV. "Sparky" does his tricks while Red sings and plays his guitar.

All Efforts to Amend Bill Are Defeated

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a last ditch stand, southern senators sought today to send the civil rights bill back to the Senate Judiciary committee.

Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss), the committee chairman, moved that the measure be returned to his committee. Southern foes of the bill argued it never has received adequate committee consideration.

The Senate Thursday cut off any opportunity to amend the bill further, a step preliminary to a final vote. Eastland's motion was one of the few maneuvers still available to the Dixie forces.

But it was obvious a majority of the Senate was set to pass the bill. The only real question left was when it could be brought to a vote.

One senator told a newsmen he thought the prospect was this—a final vote around 4 to 4:30 p.m. today or else the matter to go over until Monday. His reasoning, he said, is that a lot of senators want to leave town for the weekend and don't want a vote on Saturday.

The bill as it stands isn't entirely satisfactory to the more vehement advocates of civil rights legislation any more than it is to the southerners.

Today, Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) led off the debate by calling the bill "repugnant and unacceptable" to the South.

"It constitutes an indictment of 40 million citizens," he said, in assailing what he called "the obsession with the big brotherism" of proponents of the bill.

"The North has arrogated to itself the supervision of human relations in the South," said Fulbright.

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich), advocate of a stronger bill, called this one "a watered down bill that has been so further diluted that it will wash right out of this chamber and hardly be noticed in the mainstream of American life."

The Senate Thursday choked off any opportunity for further amendment of the measure, which has consumed eight weeks of debate and maneuvering.

Before doing so it adopted an amendment.

Youth Rally at Baptist Church Sat.

An area youth rally will be held at the First Baptist Church on Saturday, April 9 at 7:30 p.m. Young people from Bradley, Tex.; Arkansas, Magnolia, Hope, Lewisville and surrounding areas will be present.

Charles Little of Hope will preside over a youth led program. The youth choir from Central Baptist Church in Magnolia under the direction of Don Edmundson will bring special music. Other young people will tell of their experiences in church camp last summer at Sileam Springs. Miss Judy Beth Davis of Hope will give the speech which will represent southwest Arkansas in the State Baptist Youth Convention in Little Rock on April 15.

Featured speaker for the evening will be Lt. Col. William King commanding officer for the ROTC military unit at Ouachita College. Lt. Col. King is a lay-speaker who has a strong appeal for young people.

An informal cold drink and cookie refreshment time will follow the service. All young people in the Hope area are invited to attend this youth rally.

Palmer Takes Over Lead in Master Meet

By MERCER BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold
Palmer, a husky young Pennsylvanian, today is right where the odds-makers said he should be—leading the pack into the second round of the 24th Masters golf tournament.
The former Wake Forest College star, hottest item on the tour
this year, shows no signs of cooling off. Three days after being bedbound with flu, Palmer fashioned a nifty 5-under-par 67 in Thursday's opening round and grabbed a two-stroke lead.

Mincher, Mou Turning Into Good Hitters

By JIM SPILS
Associated Press Sports Writer
San Francisco's Matty Alou and Washington's Don Mincher, the other guy in the Sievers-Battey trade, can be added to the list of potential power hitters.
Each homered twice Thursday
as the Giants and Senators won spring training games. And it may not be too long before their names turn up frequently in major league baseball boxscores. Both spent last season with Class A minor league teams.
The Giants, who defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-2 at Phoenix, already have a solid starting outfield in Orlando Cepeda, Willie Mays and Willie Kirkland.
The Senators, who whipped Kansas City 10-5 at Orlando, have a definite need for first baseman Mincher. When they sent Roy Sievers to the Chicago White Sox for Earl Battey, Mincher and $150,000, Julio Becquer, a pesky but light hitter, inherited the first base job.
Alou, square name Mateo, is on the roster of the Rio Grande Valley Giants in the Texas League
and probably will be sent down.
But only Kirkland among the Giants' regular outfielders bats left-handed, and an injury to, or slump
by, Kirkland could give Matty a break.
Matty's second consecutive homers Thursday capped a three-

Injured Hawks Even Up Pro Playoff Series

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG,
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—"They're going to get the winner's share
even if they lose Saturday," owner Ben Kerner says of his St.
Louis Hawks. "This is the greatest display of guts I've ever seen."
For the fourth time in two weeks, the Hawks rallied to win
with their backs to the wall Thursday night, squaring pro basketball's world series at 3-3 with a 105-102 victory over Boston's defending champs.
"They have (Larry) Foust out of action with an injury after playing on an injured heel, (Bob) Petit with an injured back and Jack McMahon and Digie Marlin out of the entire series," Kerner said. "Yet they keep coming back."
The winning team in the National Basketball Assn. title series gets $17,000 from the league treasury, the loser $11,000. Including their winnings for their regular season finish and for the division playoffs, the Celtics can win as much as $31,000, the Hawks $24-
,000 in prize money—because Boston had the best regular season record.
If the Hawks lose, Kerner will have to pay the $6,000 difference out of his own pocket. But he says it'll be worth it.
The Celtics were quiet but confident they can win the title game
on their home court.
"The worm will turn in Boston," said Tom Heinsohn.

Won't Drop Suits Against Smith

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Nine
civil rights lawsuits, pending against Police Chief Gene Smith
when he killed himself March 10
will not be dropped, attorney Amis Guthridge says.
Guthridge said yesterday chief Robert C. Downie, administrator of Smith's estate, or Acting Police Chief R. E. Glasscock would be substituted as defendants and the cases would go to trial.
The suits seek a total of $500-
,000 damages. Eight were filed by persons who contended their civil rights were violated by police action in breaking up a segregationist demonstration at Central High School last Aug. 12.

The other suit was filed by E. A. Lauderdale Sr., who opposed the manner in which police arrested him in connection with Labor Day bombings here.
Lauderdale was convicted in the bombing of Little Rock School Board offices and sentenced to three years in prison. The case has been appealed.
Playwright Eugene O'Neill won
the 1936 Nobel Prize for literature.

DOROTHY DIX

She Forgives Two-Timing Romeo

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I'm 16. A year ago I fell in love with a boy. We dated four months then suddenly he broke off. Later I learned a girl he was seeing when he dated me had a baby. I think she figured that was the only way she could get him back. It was kept a secret. They didn't marry. I dated different boys, then one night my girl friend and I went out with this boy and another boy. I would date my boy friend again if I ever had the chance, but would that be right? — R.D.

Dear R.D.: Have a heart! How would you feel if you were the other girl? The two-timing Romeo isn't worth a second look. Forget him before you land in the same boat with that poor girl.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I read an announcement of the engagement of a friend's daughter in the local paper and would appreciate advice on the following questions:

1. Is it correct to call the mother? Should I write her or wait until she tells me the news?
2. Would it be in order to arrange showers for the bride? If so, whom should I invite? Must I send written invitations or could printed ones be used? Could I just phone close friends?
3. What are the correct words in replying to a wedding invitation? Again, could one buy printed acceptances?

Please forgive all the mistakes. I'm new to this country. —Mixed-UP E.

Dear Mixed-Up E.: You'll find all the answers in Emily Post's Book of Etiquette. But, just in case you haven't a copy, I'm aiming you the replies to your questions.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
Please help me find my daughter. I haven't heard from her in over a year. She, Carl, and Skipper were in Hartford, Mich., the last letter I had. Please give her amendment designed to meet Southerners' protests that the bill would give Negroes an advantage over white persons in registering to vote.

As the bill was drawn, federal judges could have authorized last-minute provisional registration of Negroes whose applications had not been acted on at election time. Southerners protested that white persons must register at least 30 days in advance. The change permits provisional registration only of those found qualified under state law.

Several of the bills Dixie foes said they realize that a tenuous Senate majority is determined to wage a full scale filibuster. They said privately they probably won't pass the bill without much more delay and is in no mood to stand for any filibuster. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the minority leader, predicted there will be fewer than 30 votes against it when the 100-member Senate finally votes. "I think the bill will be safe," Johnson told a news conference. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), the Senate GOP leader, also predicted an early approving vote. But the measure still faces a crossfire from Southerners calling it far too strong, and senators for the other extreme who call it far too weak.

CHAPTER V

THE STORY: Pam Warren, convalescing from an overdose of sleeping pills, is confined to her home. Rose Holmes, a good friend, has come to see her.

"I didn't know what else to say. He was in pieces, Rose, in little pieces." "I know, Pam. But tell him the truth; tell him what I'm not going to ask you—tell him why. He rates it. Any man and woman who live together owe each other the truth. I'll tell you what he said to us at the hospital. He said that you hadn't been getting along and that people knew it, including the children, but that you loved each other."

Mercifully, Carstairs trod in somberly with the heavy silver tray, and the parlor maid, who had lasted, so far, three months trudged behind, carrying her share.

Sooner or later, the captains and the kings depart. When Rose was again alone with her friend, Pam, looking fixedly into her cup, as if to read nonexistent leaves, said, "It isn't as though Harry and I—"

She broke off and Rose was silent. Perhaps if she encouraged Pam to continue, it would be therapeutic; on the other hand, Pam might be sorry afterwards, and Rose inherently shrank from anything further than implication and even from implication, itself.

"Occasionally," Pam said brokenly, "it's as if we were 20 years younger and nothing had happened in between—not the early struggle or the children on this house"—she moved her hands vaguely, indicating the buildings, the grounds—"the rest of the time, it's habit."

Rose said, "Pam dear, if you and Harry would talk it out—"

"Talk?" Pam set down her cup, lay back and closed her eyes. "Oh, we talk all right, but there isn't any real communication—the kids, the servants, taxes, the people in this town, the office, the stock market. Now and then we live it up by fighting; I drink too much; he makes a fool out of himself over some little tramp."

She stopped and then said dully, "It goes on and on like a carousel. There isn't even a brass ring, and you don't get a free ride. You pay for all your rides."

Before Thanksgiving there was a spate of parties. Pam and Harry had been on a short trip to Florida; they were home now, gay and relaxed. Rose did not see her until someone threw a party at the Club.

There were a good many people about and considerable noise. Rose saw Pam across the big room. She looked rested; her deep tan was becoming, she never turned brown but an even dark gold.

Tim was home for the holiday with his guest. Tim was tall and thin, built like his father; he had his mother's features. Olaf was even taller and considerably heavier. His hair was a darker daffodil than Debbie's and his eyes bluer than any Rose had ever seen. He was, she instantly decided, a nice boy, with a completely natural manner and a bone-crushing handshake.

He said, "It's good of you to have me, Mrs. Holmes."

"When you're far from your folks," Rose said with the warmth which did not dazzle and then disappear, but flooded and remained, "you get homesick at holidays."

Olaf nodded. He said, "Holidays were a big deal where I come from."

She did not learn until a day or so later that his mother had died the previous spring.

It was almost immediately evident that Olaf regarded Debbie with astonished delight. She had both best feet forward.

Her father commented on it. "All the airs and graces," he said, "the withdrawals and advances. She didn't get it from you, Rose."

Bible Comment

JESUS: SAVIOR AND TEACHER

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

The profound fact concerning Jesus of Nazareth in the Four Gospels, and in the New Testament, is that He is Savior and Redeemer.

The Apostle Paul rightly expresses the truth concerning His Master when he puts all the emphasis upon "the gospel of the grace of God." But Jesus himself, while He said that He was born to bear witness to truth,
likened Himself to a shepherd
seeking lost sheep.

In the Parables of the Ninety-and-Nine, of the Prodigal Son,
and of the Lost Piece of Silver (Luke 15). He made it plain that His mission on earth was as Savior and Redeemer.

It was the salvation and redemption from sin to righteousness, from what life had been to newness of life. Paul represented it as a death of the old man into a newness of living "in Christ" (Galatians 2:20).

So the gospel of salvation and redemption was the gospel of a new way of life. Paul and his Master were as much teachers as ministers of the gospel of redemption.

Paul's role as teacher had much to do with the problems of conduct and adjustment in the new Christian society of the churches he founded, but his greatest word of general guidance was in I Corinthians 13, the chapter of love.

But the teaching of Jesus went to the very foundations of character and conduct, the true worth and value of living, for man in his own life and in his relations with his fellow men.

This basic teaching was in the exposition of the nature of a Kingdom of God that He said
was "not of this world."

It meant a crucial, fundamental challenge to what have been,
and still are, predominantly the thinking and acting of people in "this world" — self-interest, getting ahead, ambition for wealth or power, and the domination of others, with all the milder aspects of self-centered living.

Against all this Jesus set the principles and values of His Kingdom: the consecration of one's life and love to God and man's love to his fellow man based on the love God has toward us.

But the distinctive fact about the teaching of Jesus was that this basis of love was not just a lofty sentiment, a vague generalization. Jesus brought it down to specific aspects and cases.

Greatness, He made it plain,
was not in terms of "this world," but consisted in service. To make it clearer to disciples warring over place and prominence in the anticipated kingdom, He washed the disciples' feet. Probably the disciples got the lesson, but how little men in general, even professing Christians, seem to have profited by it!

Humility, which in the teaching of Jesus was the greatest of virtues, seemingly has been forgotten if one considers the ways in which men strive to outdo one another.

Yet, when one thinks of it,
how right Jesus was even in worldly wisdom and values,
apart from His spiritual authority. More than we realize it, even in a world so dominated by self-interest, we approve in our inmost thinking the worths and standard of values of Jesus.

The truly great ones are the servants — the Dr. Grenfels, the Albert Schweitzers, the Father Damien, the humble and devoted teachers, the ministers to others.

3rd Man Jailed
on Robbery Charge

CORNING, Ark. (AP) — Clay County Sheriff Francis Underwood today announced the arrest of a third man in connection with a series of burglaries in this area
recently.

Underwood said Edward Joseph Pepper of St. Louis was picked up at Hillsboro, Mo.

He said he didn't know whether Pepper would waive extradition and that he planned to go ahead with extradition proceedings.

Earlier this week Robert J.
Hinckle and Homer J. Wheelon, both also of St. Louis, were arrested near here in the burglaries.

The post office and a general store at Knobel and a service station here were burglarized last weekend. Previously Knobel High School had been burglarized of 20 typewriters and a Green County school of some 25 typewriters.
Officers said Hinckle and Wheel-
on admitted the burglaries.

John Daly and Wife Divorced

NEW YORK (AP) — Television star John Daly and his wife were divorced in an Alabama court in February, according to an authoritative source here.

Daly, 46, and his wife, Margaret Neal Daly, were married 22
years and have three children.
Details of the divorce were not made public.

When to Fish or Hunt

Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar periods
as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day
has to offer.

The Major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours, thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.
